

In this burndown chart, we can see that we have gathered to discuss who gets assigned to which tasks on Feb 26, 2022.

Everyone seems to be stuck on their tasks for a long time or forgot about putting their update on Jira or has been not following the schedule properly.

On the last day of the sprint 2, we can see that we have started finishing some story features but we are still far from following the ideal burndown chart.
